

Heather Haigh, ATC, ACC

Heather Haigh is a business, sales, and leadership coach who helps business owners, wealth professionals and leaders enhance performance, embrace passion, and embody purpose.

With more than 20 years working with financial services, Heather brings a unique blend of industry knowledge and experience, with her love of seeing people at their best, to her coaching clients.

Before launching Aspiring Growth in 2016, Heather spent 18 years at RBC Wealth Management, Canada's leading wealth management firm. She held various roles supporting Canadian and International wealth advisors and branch managers achieve business excellence and deliver exceptional service to their clients.

To complement her experience, Heather is an Adler Trained Coach (ATC), holds her ACC designation from the International Coaching Federation (ICF), and is a certified team coach using The Living Systems Approach™ (LSA) to Coaching. She is a Tilt365® Certified Practitioner, holds The Attentional and Interpersonal Style Inventory (TAIS) Assessment certification, and the Organizational Change Management certification from Pro-Sci.

Heather offers a range of coaching programs and services - including individual coaching, team coaching, workshops and keynote presentations.

Outside of work, Heather enjoys spending time on the lake or at the ski hill with her husband and three teenage boys. She is a passionate Toastmaster, voracious reader, and lover of all forms of music.

For more information please visit www.aspiringgrowth.com or contact Heather directly at heather@aspiringgrowth.com